Several times the police have been notified that a man answering his description had attempted to coax little children to go away with him.

Yesterday afternoon, while Archie Deininger, aged four; Mabel Meister aged five, and Hazel Pierce, aged three, were playing in front of their home, 154 Jay street, the mysterious man came along, and after playing with the children awhile, took them to several ice-cream places, where he bought them candy, sods water and cake.

Four hours after the children had disappeared the stranger brought them back unharmed.

The children taid the man had not ill-treated them in any way.

Holzhaner, a shoe dealer, residing at 258 South Ninth street, asked for an absolute divorce from his wife, Emma J. Holzhaner, on 14.1 he statutory grounds, naming John Areinhardt, a grocer, as co-respondent. He produced evidence to show that he, in company with several detectives, and Under Chief John Gregory, had traced his wife to a house of ill repute on Broad street.

The party entered the house, and Holzhauer says he broke into a room, where he found his wife and Reinhardt. He had previously surprised the couple in his own house on South Ninth street, and on that occasion had secured from them awritten acknowledgment of their intimacy. They had promised that the intimacy should cease. traced his wife to a house of ill repute lawyer Samuel Kalisch asked for 1114 me to prepare a defense, but Vice-hancellor Green said that the case outh be considered closed unless the nunsel could prove that his client was stained by sickness or accident from tending.

CABLE EMPLOYEES TO MEET.

Broadway Conductors and Gripmen Will Protest Against Longer Hours. A meeting of the Phoenix Protective ssociation of Surface Rallway Em ployees will be held at 341 West Fortyseventh street to-morrow night, when it is expected that a large number of Broadway cable road employees will be present to decide upon some action against the new schedule recently put into operation.

Ever since June 19, when the new chedule went into effect, there have een murmurings of discontent the conductors and gripmen in charge of the cable cars.

The dissatisfaction has grown out of

The dissatisfaction has grown out of the fact that the men are compelled to work longer hours and do extra work while there has been no corresponding increase in their pay.

Under the old schedule the men made five trips a day, which consumed about eleven hours. Under the new arrangement they cover the roadsix times a day and this frequently takes from thirteen to fourteen hours. Fifty cars have been taken off since the cable has been started, and as a consequence 100 men have been relegated to the waiting list.

An "Evening World" reporter talked with a number of gripmen and conductors on the Broadway line to-day, but if they are meditating trouble they know enough to keep their own counsel. Each and every one of them disclaimed any knowledge of a proposed strike, and said they belonged to no labor organization. At the same time there is no disguising the fact that the men are greatly disgruntled.
